

In/vulnerabilities and Social Change

written by Allegra
June, 2013

CRESC 2013 Conference SOAS, London, Sept, 4-6, 2013

In a world of radical political, economic and ecological uncertainty, lives and life chances are increasingly precarious for many. It is becoming ever more urgent to explore the changing vulnerabilities of the majority. At the same time, understanding the in/vulnerabilities of elites and their sometimes inadequate forms of expertise and knowledge is also crucial. These are the two central themes of the CRESC 2013 Conference, which is co-sponsored by the Journal for Cultural Economy.

Plenary speakers ...

... will include: Stephen Collier (New School of Social Research), Thomas Hylland Erikson (Oslo), Stephen Graham (Newcastle), Andrew Haldane (Bank of England), Kate Pickett (York), and Mattijs van de Port (Amsterdam). There will also be sub-plenary speakers, conference streams and panels.

Call for papers

We welcome submissions for individual papers, conference panels, and conference streams. Panel and stream proposals should include details of at least three individual papers. (Please visit the conference website for more details, and see closing dates below).

Conference details: time and place

- School of Oriental and African Studies (SOAS), Russell Square, London
- 4th-6th September, 2013

How to book your place

- Please visit the conference website (and note the dates below)

Crucial Dates

- 13th May 2013: closing date for paper, panel and stream submissions
- 31st July 2013: closing date for 'early bird' registrations
- 31st August 2013: closing date for all conference registrations (nb: places are limited and registrations may close before this date).

- 4th-6th September, 2013: conference dates

Conference website

Please visit the conference website for details, updates, and contact information, at <http://www.cresc.ac.uk/news-and-events/past-events/2013-conference-and-lecture/>

On CRESC

CRESC, the ESRC Funded Centre for Research on Socio-Cultural Change, is a collaboration between the Open University and the University of Manchester. Please visit our website at <http://www.cresc.ac.uk/> for more details.

John Law (john.law@open.ac.uk), Chair, Conference Committee

Susan Hogan (Susan.Hogan@manchester.ac.uk), Conference Manager