

GONE RETREATING!

Some of our devoted readers may have caught glimpses of cheerful Allies in the French Alps over the weekend... Indeed, we enjoyed the extraordinary fortune of getting together for relaxing walks, talks - and ample cheese by the fire!

We feel so relaxed by this experience that we thought a vacation was in order for our beloved website too!

Thus we'll be taking a retreat this week, and return next week with reinvigorated energy & creative ideas. Why don't you take a break too - even a mini-one (also a walk qualifies!) There are some beautiful sunny winter's days at least in the North right now. Let's enjoy them, relax a bit & get back to 'business' soon!
