

Video: Ordering - Part I of #FutureCentralAsia

written by Judith Beyer
December, 2017

In this panel, the three discussants, Madeleine Reeves (Manchester / Konstanz), Tim Epkenhans (Freiburg) and Timothy Nunan (Berlin) are discussing the following three books:

Judith Beyer. 2016. The force of custom. Law and the ordering of everyday life in

Kyrgyzstan. University of Pittsburgh Press

Botakoz Kassymbekova. 2016. Despite cultures. Early Soviet rule in Tajikistan. University of Pittsburgh Press

Christian Teichmann. 2016. Macht der Unordnung. Stalins Herrschaft in Zentralasien 1920-1950. Hamburger Edition

The screenshot shows a video player interface for a lecture recording. In the top left corner, there is a logo for 'KIM.LR Lecture Recording' with 'Uni-Konstanz' below it. In the top right corner, the text 'Universität Konstanz' is displayed next to a small grid icon. The main title of the video is 'The future of central asian studies' followed by 'Panel: Ordering'. Below this, the names of the discussants are listed: 'Discussants: Madeleine Reeves', 'Timothy Nunan', and 'Tim Epkenhans'. To the right of the names, the date '12.09.2017' is shown. At the bottom of the player, there is a progress bar and a timestamp '00:02 / 46:52'.